Dance Club keeps their age-old Ukrainian holiday traditions alive

Elk Point Ukrainian Dance Club kept age-old traditions alive with their belated celebration of Ukrainian Christmas last Friday evening in the Elks Hall.

The hall was packed with families and friends, who enjoyed heaping plates of tremendous traditional foods prepared by the families, then settled back to watch the dancers perform.

Master of Ceremonies Marshall Kachmar welcomed the crowd, and explained that Orthodox Christmas follows the Julian Calendar, which is still used by Russian and Slovak countries, Greece and the Middle East. Orthodox Christmas ends the 40 days of Advent prayers and fasting, and the Holy Supper is eaten after a full day of fasting in memory of Mary's hardships on the way to Bethlehem. There are traditionally no meat, eggs or dairy products in the twelve dishes symbolic of the twelve apostles.

Hay spread under the festive table reminds us Jesus was born in a stable, while the three braided breads remind us of the Holy Trinity and the candle they hold of the Holy Spirit.

The Kutia, a mixture of wheat, honey, poppy seed and walnuts, "is the most significant of dishes," Kachmar said, dating back thousands of years to when wheat was the staff of life. Everyone was expected to have at least a tiny portion of each dish, which traditionally included borscht, pickled herrings, holupchi, pyrohy, fish, beans with garlic and sauerkraut with peas. After the meal, families would sing carols. A lit candle in the window would be an invitation to a stranger to join the gathering, and an extra place was set at the table in memory of deceased family members.

Kachmar praised the Ukrainian Dance Club for their part in keeping these ancient traditions alive.

The meal was followed by more tradition, as the senior dancers performed a strenuous Bukovinian dance with the girls in wheat head-dresses and jingling coin necklaces and the boys in fur caps.

A baker's dozen of tiny beginners were next on stage with their rambunctious "Zoomba" to a song about the celebrated Slavko the Music Man, much enjoyed by dancers and audience alike.

The juniors, in the ornate embroidered vests and handmade leather slippers of the Hutzul region, were next to perform, and they were followed by four Intermediate girls with a lilting Bukovinian dance.

The seniors wound up the program, with the ribbons on the velvet-vested girls' flower wreath headdresses flying and their skirts whirling, and the boys leaping high in the air in the joyous Hopak which traditionally ends all of the club's dance concerts.

Chamber of Commerce explores fundraising ideas

Chamber's Annual Meeting is coming up on February 2

It's near the end of their fiscal year, and the Elk Point Chamber of Commerce is getting close to the bottom of their financial barrel. Thus, part of the discussion at last Wednesday's regular meeting focused on ways to fatten the Chamber's bank account.

One new and different idea came via a letter from Starr Bros. Big Top Tented Circus, who expressed an interest in performing in Elk Point in late July or early August and who were looking for a sponsoring group. The sponsoring group would be responsible for distributing tickets to local school children and for arranging for advertising which would be paid for by Starr Bros. In return, they would give the sponsoring group a portion of their advance ticket and box office revenues. President Victor Stepa will look into the possibility of booking the circus, if they would be able to come to town for the August 11 and 12 weekend, which would coincide with the Elk Point Agricultural Fair.

Another way to shore up the bank account would be for members to pay their annual fees as soon as possible after the fees are set at the Annual Meeting, February 2. A membership drive is slated to start immediately after that meeting.

Town manager Myron Goyan reminded the Chamber that the wolf is not actually on their doorstep, because the Town's annual grant to the Chamber will be forthcoming very shortly. The Chamber also has funds in a savings account, and that balance was not included in the small amount which will be left when current bills are paid.

Also on the topic of the Annual Meeting, several members have allowed their names to be put on the slate of potential executive for 2000, and only the position of vice-president remains without nominees at this time. The current executive hopes to present a full slate of nominees for ratification at the Annual Meeting.

Six names are currently on the registration list for the planned Service Best seminar, and Dennis Jasinsky has hopes of finding another 24 participants, which would bring the cost down to $40 per person for the full-day workshop on customer service which the Chamber hopes to offer in the near future.

County Councillor Ray Danyluk asked the Chamber for their support at the agricultural distress meeting hosted by Leon Benoit, January 24. "It has to go beyond the point of farmers expressing their concerns," he emphasized. "We will talk about the traditional things, but even the quality of education for our children could be affected," Danyluk said. Lower farm incomes mean less rural young people able to attend university, which is "a small impact on the education system but big for our children."

To be or not to be a Block Parent

Five reasons to help you decide

By Deanna Easthope
FCSS Director

At the beginning of December, a Block Parent Orientation meeting was held. We then sent application forms out to all interested potential Block Parent people who had indicated their interest. Each person was to return their application form to the local RCMP in order to complete the police screening process.

We realize that

December - the busy month of Christmas season commitments, was probably a bad time to give people another assignment. Please accept our apologies. Now we need to remind everyone - please return your Block Parent applications to Cst. Jenny MacDonald of the RCMP as soon as possible. If you have lost or misplaced your application form, or if you never did receive the application form and are interested, give the FCSS office a call.

There are about five reasons for not becoming a Block Parent. None of them makes any sense.

Number one. I work all day. Even if you do, a few hours a week is a help.

Number two. I'm not a parent. You don't have to be, to care about the safety of children. Retired citizens and single people can be Block Parents.

Number three. I'll always help, sign or not. Most children are taught to be wary of strangers. The Block Parent sign lets them know you're a stranger they can trust because you've been checked out by the police.

Number four. I don't want to open my home to strangers. You don't have to. All you're doing is giving sanctuary to a frightened child and contacting the proper authorities.

Number five. There are enough Block

Parents already. There aren't. Every Block Parent isn't available all the time. So the more, the better. Even when they're not busy, they're working. We can never have enough of them.

Basically, the responsibilities of the Block Parent are: (1) to offer their home as a place of safety, while contacting the proper authorities and/or the parents, as the situation requires; (2) to offer assistance to persons in distress by phoning the necessary emergency service (police, fire, ambulance, etc.); (3) to aid in the prompt reporting of emergency problems to the proper agency concerned (ie. police, fire, ambulance, etc.); and (4) to report any suspicious or criminal activity in your neighborhood to the police department.

The Block Parent Program was established to provide greater protection to the children and adults in a community. Block Parents display the sign when they are available. Are you interested in becoming a Block Parent? Call FCSS at 724-3800.

Post-secondary programs will receive Access funding

By Paul Langevin, MLA

Lac La Biche - St. Paul

Nursing, health technology and information and communications technology (ICT) programs will receive the bulk of 1213 additional spaces being created by $25.9 million in grants to post-secondary institutions from Alberta Learning's Access Fund.

Learning Minister Dr. Lyle Oberg announced the money will be distributed among 21 institutions to fund additional post-secondary spaces in priority areas such as health programs and ICT in September 2000. The Access Fund is Alberta Learning's funding program for expansion of the post-secondary system providing both ongoing and one-time grants.

There will be 195 new spaces in nursing (licensed practical nurse, acute care and diploma and degree registered nurses), 878 new ITC spaces - 48 of which also fall under the category of health technologies (medical lab and diagnostic imaging), and 120 new spaces in university transfer programs at Mount Royal College and Grant MacEwan College. An additional 20 spaces will be created in other programs.

Funding will enable post-secondary institutions to expand and ensure continuing program quality. The $25.9 million grant includes one-time funding of $17.5 million for construction or renovating facilities and for acquiring high-tech equipment, and $8.4 million in operating grants. Future operating grants will increase as enrollments rise.

Who is the boss, anyway?

By Irene Magnusson

Review Contributors

Weedless Wednesday will have passed by the time you read this, so why am I mentioning it? Perhaps it's the same urge that overcomes missionaries - they think they've found a good thing, so want to pass it along. So here is my sermon for this week.

I found a good thing, and I want to pass it along. Namely, breathing. It is so much fun! Much better than not. And I've learned what happens to a lot of folks who do the heavy smoking act.

Some of the lesser evils are: 1. The coughing bit: When you want to sleep, or speak, or yell across the yard, when you get up in the morning - cough, cough, cough!

2. The no-smelling syndrome: Gone are the scents of flowers, herbs, clover. No more can you tell if the house is afire - or just a humidifier that needs cleaning. No way to sniff the white crystals in a spoon and know if it's salt or sugar. Face it. Your smeller goes with the smoking.

3. The sore stomach. You think you've got ulcers, and nothing agrees with your stomach. You try to live on baking soda and other antacids. Slim chance. And every cigarette makes it worse. Wouldn't it be fun to go back to the 'good old days' when you could wolf down anything you liked, with NO repercussions, burps or pain?

You could, again, you know.

And 4. The song in your voice - and in your heart! Did you stop singing because you "got too old"? And you're in your thirties? Ah, phooey! You just dried your voice right up in your throat with the good old puff, puff, puff. Why not throw it down and get back the desire and the voice to sing with the birdies of spring, tra la?

I'm not even going to mention the holes burned in your clothes, on the table edges, in the floor vinyl, the grey walls and curtains, the kids that hate to go out driving in your stinky car, not to mention people that love you - but not your scent.

I will not get serious, and mention anything about the cancer of the lungs, or throat, or lips that you are flirting with. You wouldn't believe it, anyway.

Nor will I mention the emphysema, heart damage, you? And so you'll slow down. Right? And then you have to guzzle a few quarts of coffee a day to speed you up - yes, no??

I'm afraid, if you have read thus far, that I must disillusion you. The fact is, you will get a whole lot less nervous once you've quit smoking. You may even regain so much energy you won't even need all that coffee to perk you up. You may enjoy your food again, sans the sore stomach. And you really don't have to gain a lot of weight - just get the 'big sleep' over with, then go out and DO something - you'll feel like it!

For sure you will regain your senses - smell, taste, possibly your singing voice - and the great reduction in coughing will give you - and your family - a whole lot of rest!

Your friends - who are now enduring your addiction, will welcome the change with smiles and thanks, and you with open arms!

You can stop anytime you wish, eh? Well, I agree with that. All it takes is two seconds to put the darn things down, and then about three months of not picking them up again. By three weeks after I put mine down, no one could have paid me enough money - or otherwise bribed me - to stick another cigarette in my face. My big regret is I ever picked one up in the first place. There is absolutely no benefit to smoking, whatsoever; and I absolutely shudder to think of the cost! I would guesstimate - at least $200 per month? Who in the world can afford to throw so much in the can, with NO good whatsoever coming from it?

Former smoker Irene Magnusson's Weedless Wednesday column was first printed in the Elk Point Sentinel on January 12, 1981.

Try Again

Did you ever see a fool smoking?

Well, it was me;

Did you ever see a fool choking?

Yes, that was me;

And the time I spent choking

After time I spent smoking

Tried to be the hacking, barking end of me!

But at last I saw the error of my ways

And decided to regain my healthy days;

From my lips I pulled the cigarette out

And laid it in a tray I had about;

Then with many a nap and smile

And rejoicing all the while -

I just never picked the darn thing up!

Now I sing as I do my work or play

With the voice I feared that I had puffed away

And I never even think

Of that awful 'baccy stink

That I carried 'round with me

Both night and day!

hardening of the arteries, damage to unborn babies, etc., etc., that the experts tell us are to be expected by the persistent smoker.

You're a big girl/boy now. You know just what you want. And, by gum, you want to smoke!

Of course, the fact that you are 'hooked' on it has little to do with it, eh? You can always stop whenever you want to. Ha, ha, ha, on the dotted line. I know exactly how it is, and how the story goes. You smoke so you won't get nervous, don't

FGM students end their first semester

By Leanne Wilson

Student Journalist

Hello from F. G. Miller High School. Well, student and teachers are back in the groove of things and are quickly heading toward the end of the semester. And you know what comes at this time of year: the final exams. One of our exchange students, Donabel Ginez, is busily preparing for exams as well as learning the culture of Canada. Donabel is in Grade 11 and comes from Ilagan, Isabela in the Philippines. She decided to come to Canada to learn about our culture and traditions and to experience the excitement of staying in a different country.

Donabel is certainly having many experiences, meeting new friends and attending a school that functions very differently from that in her homeland. In the Philippines, school begins at 7:30 a.m., ends at 5:30 p.m. and elementary school is from grades one to six. Students then attend high school for four years and afterwards enter into university or college. Donabel is also experiencing many other aspects of Canada such as our celebrations. In the Philippines, they have an Independence Day celebration on June 12 and also celebrate "Lingo Ng Wika" or "Language Week." The climates also vary; Donabel compared the climate in the Philippines to an Alberta summer with frequent rainfalls.

At F. G. Miller, Donabel's favorite classes are English and Accounting and her favorite sport is badminton. In her spare time, she enjoys listening to music and making handicrafts. Donabel also helps out at Parkview Long Term Care and works at the Empress every Saturday.

Donabel has found Canada to be a neat and quiet country. To her, Canada is a great nation where there is freedom and equality. We hope that Donabel continues to enjoy her stay in Canada and has many more wonderful experiences.

So as Donabel would say, paalam (goodbye) for now.

The Friends of the Library need your help!

By Daphne Schnurer
Librarian

The Friends have been assisting the library for approximately the last ten years. Their dedication and support have allowed the library to keep its hours of service, buy new materials and books, purchase new equipment and assist in programming costs such as Storytime or the Summer Reading Program. The Friends of the Library desperately need new members to assist with bingos which have been the Friends' main source of income. If you are interested in becoming involved in this worthwhile organization or would be willing to work a bingo, please give us a call. The continuation of this project depends on you, the Library's members. If we all pitch in, it would probably only involve one meeting and one bingo per member per year.

The Friends will be meeting Wednesday, February 2 at 7:30 p.m. at the Library. I encourage you to attend this meeting as this will determine the direction the Friends will go with regards to fundraising.

Membership

Cost of a Library Membership for the year is as follows: Adult - $10, Family - $15, Seniors and Children - $5.

DEB,

You went on and on about turning 40,

We all couldn't figure out why

Age is something that there is no need to be shy

Despite your ranting and raving you hoped we would have forgotten Instead we decided to behave quite rotten.

There is no need for you to rush and hide Because despite what you think we are on your side

When you arrive from your Mexican slumber We hope you will realize that age is just a number

Happy 40th
You Old Boot!

Love, all of us

Many Albertans gamble as a form of recreation. For a small minority, however, gambling becomes a problem. If you or someone you know is experiencing personal, social or financial problems as a result of their gambling, confidential help is available. Call 1-800-665-9676.

Health care is the number one concern of Albertans.

You want a health system that is there when you need it.

You don't want lengthy waiting lists.

You don't want two-tiered health care.

We agree - here are the facts:

The Alberta Government has released a policy statement that rejects two-tiered health care and proposes rules to regulate clinics performing surgeries requiring an overnight stay.

Albertans have also asked us:

Will I have to pay for insured medical services?

No. The publicly funded health system will pay for insured medical services, just as it does now. Paying to get to the front of the line will be illegal. Contracted health care providers cannot charge insured Albertans for surgical services that are covered by the Alberta Health Care Insurance Plan.

Why not put more money in the system and open more beds?

We're spending about $600 million more on health than we did last year and funding will increase again in the 2000-2001 budget. Health authorities can use the new dollars to open beds, and many have. Under the proposed new policy, health authorities would have the option to contract out some surgeries, if they can show that it will help them do a better job of providing health services in their region.

Tell US what matters to you.

The health system is changing to meet your needs.
The status quo is not an option.

UP WINNERS -- Elk Point Pee wee Avalanche undefeated to win the UPR Cup at their tournament this weekend.

Just like it was Lord Stanley's Cup

By Doug Bassett
Review Sports

At one time it was known as the Westmin Cup, then it changed to the Norcen Cup, and now they call it the UPR Cup, but the way the boys carried it over their heads around the rink, you would think it was the Stanley Cup, after the Pee wee Avalanche won the annual tournament this weekend over their old rivals, Two Hills. The Avalanche went four for four in the round robin, winning over Two Hills, Lashburn and Lloydminster before meeting up with Two Hills again in the exciting final game that was tied at one goal apiece after the first 40 minutes. But in the end, it was Jordan Cousins who finally came through for the Avalanche, getting the winning goal when it was set up for him on a really nice pass by Lee Letestu. Jordan may be small in stature, but he practices hard, comes to play every week with desire, and that's the one thing they don't measure, the size of your heart.

How do you know when you were in an ugly game? When the timekeeper has to use the back of the game sheet to finish recording the penalties. The Midget Thunder didn't get any breaks from the referee, taking a total of 25 penalties in the game in Turtleford on Saturday. The Thunder, going into the third down 5 to 3, started the game with a short bench that got shorter all the time, with only three skaters on the ice and two spares on the bench, the final score, a blow out. Now I know the Thunder are no angels, but it takes two to tangle! The Dewberry boys, Cam Lawrence, Kurt Bensmiller and Scott Stone scored for the Thunder.

The Dewberry Bantam Colts were also in Turtleford, taking second overall in a tournament, Elk Point's Kevin Moneta with a goal. This coming Friday the Colts play at home in their first game of Provincials against Kikino.

The Atom Avalanche lost the first game of provincials against Glendon on Friday night, the second game is this coming Saturday at home. In a game the Avalanche won against Kikino on Saturday, Kelsey Slywka scored her first goal of the season, and received her first penalty ever.

Everyone on the team contributed to the score sheet for the Novice Hurricanes, winning the A Final in Paradise Valley's tournament. Chevy Botting with six goals, Billy Hudy four goals, Ryan Marceniuk and Josh Weir three goals each, Kameron Ballas with two, Ian Jurak a single and Danny Carlson added three assists. Called up from the Tornados this week, Mike Marianchuk with two goals and Dylan Loughran three assists.

The Micro Novice Tornados found some competition this week. They were down by two goals in Bonnyville on Saturday, but fought back. At one point, the game was tied at 6 apiece, the final 12-7 for the Tornados. Mike Marianchuk, Bradley Yarmuch and Harrison Maas with hat tricks, Jordyn Wozniak with two and Quillan Lowry a single.

The Pee wee Girls Cyclones travelled to Wainwright where they won a decisive victory 9 to 0. Scoring machine Ashley Hebblethwaite just may have set a new record for the fastest goals ever scored, when she buried four goals before the game was even five minutes old. Brittany Ballas with some good digging in the corners had two assists, and another big game in net for Kristen Campbell who recorded her third shutout of the season.

At least the Midget Girls Storm don't have to fight over ice time. Once again this past week the Storm travelled to play in Vermilion with only seven skaters. Alyssa Fry played her best game all season, scoring the only Storm goal with some extra hard effort in front of the net. Alyssa, who normally plays defence, was on the forward line for this game, and doing some great forechecking. Iron woman, team captain Megan Tucker played most of the game on defence without a break.

Elks defeat Comets

Marwayne Comets came to town Friday night with a short bench, and although they scored the first goals and kept the game on an even keel for the first 40 minutes, they were unable to keep up the pace, losing 7-4 to the Elks.

The Comets were up 2-0, when captain Ted Genereux put the Elks on the board off an assist by Tyson Stafford. The newest Elk, Conway Roscoe, tied it up a minute and a half later off assists by Danny Flett and Roger Wilkins. Roscoe is well known to Elk Point fans, having played minor hockey here.

Marwayne pulled ahead half a minute into the second period, with Roscoe tying it up 89 seconds later, assisted by Flett and Stafford. Marwayne again off an assist by James Babenek just after the midpoint of the game.

The third period belonged to the Elks, with Stafford scoring unassisted, Mike Boratynec assisted by Roscoe and Kelvin Hall, and Hall assisted by Genereux and Wilkins.

PROVINCIALS

The Elks didn't fare as well in their first Provincial game on Sunday, when they traveled to Cold Lake to take in the Packers. Tyson Stafford scored the first goal and assisted on the other two by Danny Flett in the 6-3 loss. Flett and Genereux assisted on Stafford's goal and Leighton Grey and Genereux had assists on Flett's goal. The second game of the two-game, total point series was

INVITATION TO AN OPEN HOUSE

The Lakeland Petroleum Association (LPA) would like to invite the general public from the Lakeland region to an open house to further explore the development of a collaborative process between the oil and gas industry and the community.

The open house will include poster stations designed to create opportunities for members of the public and industry to have one-on-one discussions about their operations. There will be ample time during the evening to explore the interest in and commitment to developing a collaborative process. To facilitate this discussion, the LPA has invited members of the Sundre Petroleum Operators Group (SPOG) to make a brief presentation. SPOG has been operating since 1992 and is an example of how a collaborative process between industry and the community can work successfully.

THE OPEN HOUSE WILL BE HELD ON:

Tuesday, February 1st, 2000

7:00 pm to 9:30 pm
